MEET OUR TEAM

About us / Our Values

At CVZ, we are a dynamic, entrepreneurial team eager to take on new challenges. We are qualified professionals with extensive experience and a sense of organization, who are inserted in different departments in order to guarantee the quality of our projects and services. The professionals on site are selected for their skills and vast experience in the area in question. The production department is made up of architects and engineers, who manage their works from project conception to construction. To conclude, we can highlight that our added value consists of having our own qualified workforce, which allows us greater efficiency and quality control in the services provided by integrated project and construction management.
